PARADOR

living performance

Art of living meets perfor- mance demand

For us, the art of living is an appreciation of beauty and to create inspiration out of it at any moment in time.

Performance is a permanent feature of our life. Day after day, we demand performance. Delivering daily performance requires solid ground beneath our feet.

PARADOR

Every day performance

Living spaces are an expression of our individual attitude to life and of our own individual demands. For us, making high demands means having an awareness for quality. At Parador, we unite this awareness for quality with a sense for the classic and a flair for the time in which we live. The result is a wide spectrum of products, whose confident style down to the last detail is equally convincing as the natural impression of their material.

Philosophy

We have developed a value compass that guides us through all our decisions. It determines how Parador acts and gives what we do a sense of reliability. This applies to our company and our products, through which our inner attitude is expressed: we live for products that make any home the most beautiful home in the world. Attention to detail, inventiveness and a willingness to develop go hand in hand with our products. We work every day to delight demanding customers.

Inspiration

Many people love and feel the inspiration behind products. That is why we expand energy and commitment to create new possibilities and realise convincing products. Developments from architecture and interior design that provide impetus, a feel for trends, stimuli from lifestyle, handcraft and art repeatedly inspire our product developers and designers to come up with new ideas. This is how creative design, installation patterns and finishes emerge, which allow our products to become trendsetters in flooring design.

Design

For us, design is an expression of personality: it places the focus on individualism and independent ideas. Imaginative graphic motifs and decors open up an unlimited scope for creativity with uncompromising production perfection. Our internal design team and the collaboration with outstanding personalities from the international design scene are a guarantee of this scope. The result is convincing and unusual products that underline Parador's claim as a creative leader.

Quality

Parador offers premium quality „Made in Germany“. Our many years of experience provides the foundation for this combined with the relentless drive to further develop our expertise in all relevant areas. Our customers can tell the quality of our vinyl floors by their impressive appearance and perfect click connection. In addition to their sturdiness but also comfort, these properties form the character of these floors in the long-term.

Materiality

Our resilient floors are made either completely of durable, robust vinyl material or a vinyl support layer applied to a wood fibreboard and a layer of cork. Vinyl floors are ideal for creating excellent surface texturing. This allows authentic imitations of natural materials such as wood or stone.

Technology

Parador vinyl floors are distinguished by a functional composition and rational technology. Our click systems guarantee easy installation, whilst swell-resistant core boards provide reliable protection against damp. All Parador vinyl floors are suitable for underfloor heating systems. Floors made of solid vinyl are particularly water-resistant and therefore ideal for use in the bathroom and kitchen. Our wear classes show that the floors are also suitable for heavy duty use for home, commercial and industrial areas.

Health in the home

All Parador vinyl floors have low emissions and allergens and contribute towards an ecological balance thanks to their robust nature and long life. All Parador vinyl products are regularly tested providing excellent results; as a product tested for emissions, they therefore have building regulations approval. The special surface coating has a repellent effect against dirt and bacteria. Our vinyl is very quiet and easy to clean, signifying that it is perfectly suitable for households with pets, children and allergy sufferers.

Sustainability

As a traditional wood processing company, we hold our environment in the highest esteem. For us, living with a certain quality standard in the present must go hand in hand with responsibility to conserve the planet for future generations. We stand up to this responsibility with products that set standards in terms of ecology with the materials used and their processing, production, packaging and also logistics. What is more, we have been actively committed to conserving the environment for years.

Different people have different demands. For this reason Parador provides a large choice of wide-ranging products in a clearly divided structure. You will therefore find the right floor to match your personality.
